BILL LOWRANCE RECEIVES PRO BONO LAWYER OF THE YEAR AWARD

On Thursday, June 24th, 2010, Bill Lowrance, sole practitioner at Lowrance Law LLC, was honored during a ceremony held at the Alexandria, Virginia court house. The event was organized and conducted by Legal Services of Northern Virginia (LSNV) to honor four lawyers, one law firm, and one paralegal whose contributions to the field of pro bono work in Northern Virginia was and continues to be outstanding, both for the numbers of hours they contribute and in the quality of their work and commitment.

Bill was honored in part for his work with the Attorney of the Day program in Fairfax County. In the span of two years, he has “taken eighteen days...averaging nearly one day every single month.” Counting only those days, Bill has represented nearly fifty clients who could not afford legal assistance. LSNV considers Bill to be “one of the attorneys [to] contact in emergency cases; even if the case is the two days away, if Bill’s calendar is open, he takes the case.”

Bill’s contributions to the field of pro bono legal service include work with victims of domestic violence, work in uncontested divorce cases, and other matters pertaining to family law. As noted in the ceremony held by LSNV, Bill has again committed to an active role in LSNV’s Domestic Violence Attorney of the Day program for this coming year; a commitment which will mark his third year of consecutive service within the pro bono field.

Bill’s lawfirm, Lowrance Law LLC, is located in McLean, Virginia and focuses on tax controversy cases.

Congratulations to Bill for his award and recognition!
